ADIOS AMIGOS

Greetings delegates,

Amongst the Creme de la creme, well researched delegates driven to arrive at resolutions, or the meek first timers, the frantic organising committee running around catering to each and every minute details, or the masters of mayhem concerned only with their debonair attires, delectable varieties of food or the selfie sessions. One important fact of this whole experience is often neglected and that of course is the International Press.

In the midst of all the committees and inconspicuous team of the journalists and photographers eyes the proceeding like a hawk. Every point raised, every moment made is carefully noted down , backed by thorough research. As the deadline approaches the quite ones transform, and a complete three sixty degree upheaval is witnessed in the IP room.

Even after all the running around like crazy mice, the IP Team shall never deter from presenting you the Press Conference release .

We take pride in our teamwork and most of all rejoiced in the new friendships and bonds formed, laughters shared and memories created. It has indeed all been worth it.

So dear delegates, the International Press now signs off.
